Living Out God’s Command To Welcome Refugees And Immigrants In Minnesota

Be inspired by the next generation of activists. We introduce you to Austin and Lucca, the 17-year-old co-organizers of Arrive Five.

Plus, we’re hosting a timely lunch-hour webinar: Refugees and Our Response, what Christ-centered civic engagement looks like in today’s cultural climate.

And Arrive Ministries staff and clients are in the news!

Stories of Hope

Students Organize Charity Run for Arrive Ministries

If 17-year-old Austin Hunter and Lucca Ramone are any indication of the characteristics their generation will offer to the world, then our future is looking bright!

The two young men, who just started their senior year at Minnetonka High School, have been busy all summer creating a 5-day charity run/walk challenge called Arrive Five, with all of the proceeds benefiting Arrive Ministries.

“The goal of this challenge is to spread accurate information about who refugees are and how they contribute positively to our communities to combat xenophobia,” said Lucca.

MPR News Report Features Arrive
Arrive Ministries Immigration Counselor, Allegra Drobnick is quoted discussing how citizenship delays could thwart some of our client’s dreams of voting in November.

“Civic participation is kind of the backbone of our country and if we have a large population, such as the immigrant population, who is not being afforded that right when eligible, it’s a huge disservice to not only them, but to the rest of us,” said Allegra, an Arrive Ministries Immigration Counselor.

Danyal, whose story of citizenship delay told here, is one of Arrive Ministries’ clients and friends.

Danyal’s wife, Haleema is one of our Afghan tutoring students. Haleema was sworn in as a U.S. citizen last month!
